Jackson's Village Bistro

Jackson's Village Bistro is a quaint, intimate sidewalk bistro with a heated, flower-laden patio. Jackson's offers a menu that Merrill Shindler says "...bounces happily from America to Peru to Italy...it's one of the most enjoyable little places I've been to in the South Bay in a long time." Try the pan-seared sea bass, the lamb shank infused with rosemary, or the Peruvian chicken with plantains. There's also a great burger with fresh-cut garlic fries, a dynamite rib eye steak and a wonderful selection of pastas. All desserts at Jackson's are homemade, so save room for the warm chocolate soufflé cake or the caramelized bananas. They're heavenly. Affordable prices, too. Monday through Saturday open at 6 p.m.; Sunday at 5:30 p.m.

Sushi Sei

Every morning Kin Chan, part owner of Sushi Sei, travels to the downtown fish market to hand select the fish to be served that day. This and the minimum of 10 years' experience they require of their sushi chefs, is the reason the sushi is so good. Ask for your favorite or have them create one of their specialties and you'll be hooked on Sushi Sei for life. Also excellent are the traditional Japanese dishes that they make fresh. Try the sunomono, chicken teriyaki, miso soup, sashimi, tempura or gyoza. Open Mon.-Thurs. 5:30-10 p.m., Fri. and Sat. 5:30-11 p.m., Sun. 5 p.m.-10 p.m.

Suzy's Bar & Grill

Upon entering Suzy's one feels right at home. The warm, dedicated staff places emphasis on making customers happy. The 25 year old owner moved from the East Coast less than a year ago. Along with her came a vision, a dream and much ambition. She takes pride in her supportive staff, great selection of quality food, wide variety of beer and wine and lively entertainment. Suzanne took hold of an existing business called the Hermosa Steak Out; an establishment in which she saw great potential. It contains all the fun of Hermosa Beach minus the lines and the fight for parking. So far the changes have been gradual, such as the addition of a big screen TV, a jukebox, an amazing Happy Hour and healthier menu items. She has not, however, lost the authenticity of the East Coast steak sandwiches. The future plan is to expand the existing space and obtain a full liquor license. Suzy's is definitely a place worth checking out, whether it be to have a great meal, hear live entertainment or just have a good time!

The Banyan Indonesian Restaurant

Stepping into The Banyan is like entering a tropical paradise of fabulous flavors and exotic décor including a real waterfall. Locals and restaurant critics alike have raved about the delicious Indonesian cuisine served here - previously described as "cuisine that can stun with its peppers and soothe with its coconut and peanuts", and "food so full of flavor, it boggles the mind, but not the wallet". A must try is Banyan's Rijstafel - quoted by 3 different critics as a "culinary object of desire", "glorious" and an "exotic feast laden with twelve homemade delicacies (in petite portions) and a great way to sample staples from another land"

Francesca

"Who is Francesca?" is undoubtedly the most frequently asked question to owner Ryan Stearns by guests of his restaurant, and his answer is one which will absorb you. Francesca is a restaurant unique to itself. Exuding European ambiance, a mix perhaps of French and Italian, Francesca's atmosphere, staff and food typifies the casual elegance and forgotten charm of the neighborhood bistro. Its menu is invitingly diverse, featuring a combination of flavors from Italy, Asia and California, as conceived by chef and co-owner Brandon Reed. Francesca is an experience you should not miss. Open for dinner Tues. - Sun. from 5:30 p.m. on and for brunch Sat. and Sun. 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Michi Restaurant

Michi Tadahashi's experience as a chef started at the age of 16 in his native Japan. Since then, his passion for fine cuisine has led him to Paris, Milan, Spain and, finally, Los Angeles. Michi began his career in the United States as the Executive Chef for Chaya Brasserie. In October of 1996, Michi realized his own dream and opened Michi Restaurant and Martini Bar in Manhattan Beach. Reigning with passion and soul in his open-air kitchen, Michi delights his patrons with his mastery of cross-cultural cuisine. His goal is to give the people of Manhattan Beach the most incredible food they have ever tasted. Michi serves lunch Tues.-Fri., 11:30 a.m. and dinner Mon.-Sat. from 6 p.m.
